1979 - 80 WRESTLING GUIDE

Salisbury State All-Americans (l-r) Joe Jarosz, Jerry McGinty, Eddie Bailey, Mark Jarosz

PROSPECTUS

With three NCAA Division III National Champions and another All-American returning, plus everyone else who scored points in last spring's National Championships, Coach Mike McGlinchey is understandably optimistic about the upcoming season.

"We should be competitive with everyone we face," said the Sea Gull mentor, "if we wrestle up to our capability."

Following last season's dual meet record of 10-3, SSC's only wrestling coach has compiled an 83-28-2 dual meet competition mark in his seven years at the Eastern Shore school. The highlight of his tenure here, however, has to be the Sea Gulls' third place finish in the nationals.

Eddie Bailey, third seeded in the Division III National Tournament became the Gulls' first ever National Champion when he captured the 118 pound class. Later, teammates Mark and Joe Jarosz joined him with victories at 177 and 190, respectively.

Jerry McGinty also earned All-American status with his fifth place finish in the 126 pound class. Bailey and the Jarosz brothers are now seniors, while McGinty is a junior.

McGlinchey, in turning a fledgling wrestling program into a contender for the National Championship in such a short time, has stressed three points in an attempt to allow his wrestlers to realize their full potential: a demanding regular season schedule, working hard in practice on conditioning and technique, and good competition in the practice room.

Sophomore John Dolch and senior Hal Saylor are prime examples of the rugged competition Sea Gull grapplers face each day in practice. Both are vying to represent SSC in the 134 pound class, and the winner is sure to know his spot on the roster was well earned. Dolch was a semifinalist in the prestigious Wilkes-Barre Tournament last year, while Saylor, who lettered at Division I powerhouse Iowa State as a freshman before transferring to SSC, is considered one of the outstanding wrestlers to come out of a Maryland high school.

A squad with skilled personnel at each weight classification, other Sea Gull wrestlers to watch include Kevin Hauer (142), Andy Makar (158), Alan Hogg (167) and heavyweight Bryce Cox.

Outstanding Sea Gull freshmen prospects include Mike Santy (118), Ray Scanlon (118), Mike McInerney (150), Danny Monthley (177) and heavyweight Bob Tavik.

Following a challenging regular season schedule which features eight tournaments, Salisbury State will host the NCAA Division III Regional Tournament on February 22 and 23.

THE COACH

Mike McGlinchey

Coach Mike McGlinchey begins his eighth year as SSC wrestling coach—the only grappler coach at Salisbury since the program began in 1972. Seven years has seen his teams compile a 83-28-2 record. The Sea Gulls have never experienced a losing season under McGlinchey. The University of Delaware graduate (1967) also serves as defensive coordinator for the SSC football team.

At Delaware he competed in football, wrestling and baseball and was selected Delaware "Athlete of the Year" and "Outstanding Wrestler" award in 1967.

Following graduation from Delaware he entered the service in 1967 and won both the "Fifth Army" and "U.S. European Command" 190 pound wrestling titles.

He returned to Delaware to earn his MEd in Administration in 1972 and also served as an assistant coach for the Blue Hen wrestling squad.

Mike is married to Marylane McBurney and they have two children, Patrick (7) and Mike (2).

Assistant coach Steve Hogg is in his second year with the Gulls. Steve was an outstanding wrestler at the University of Maryland. He is a former ACC champion and in 1976 was named the outstanding wrestler of the ACC tournament. His knowledge, dedication and skill have helped develop many of the wrestlers at SSC.
